

Di-O-Matic Announces Immediate Availability of Voice-O-Matic version 1.1

Montreal, Qc – October 24, 2003 – Di-O-Matic, a leading developer of character animation software, announced today immediate availability of Voice-O-Matic version 1.1 for 3ds max.

Voice-O-Matic simply takes lip synchronization to a new level by using an intelligent phonetic engine that can break down audio files cleanly and automatically assign correct phonemes (up to 40 of them) to make your characters talk in just minutes. It also has impressive language support and can handle French, Italian, German and Spanish as well as English where text can be used to get better syllabic result. Animators can also tweak their results with standard Bezier curve controls and sophisticated smoothing algorithms so that the fine-tuning process is quick and painless.

Voice-O-Matic is one of the easiest character animation plugins to use. And in addition is now the only lip-sync plugin that is supported for 3dsmax users, as other developers of lip-sync plugins have either ceased operations altogether or will simply not develop any future versions. Thanks to Voice-O-Matic, 3ds max animators can now rely on its intuitive workflow to create quality lip-sync animations in a snap !

Included in this new version is support for 3ds max 6, the newest version of Discreet's top-selling animation software as well as several minor bug fixes.
